Contact (name & email)	GACD.rfa@nhmrc.gov.au
Specific requirements in terms of call scope	NHMRC is inviting investigators to submit applications for research that will focus on implementation research proposals for the primary and/or secondary prevention of cancer in Low- and Middle-Income Countries and/or in populations facing conditions of vulnerability in High-Income Countries, including In Indigenous communities in Australia and other countries. Applicants are required to outline the benefit of the research to Australia in their research proposal. Consistent with the principles of the GACD, NHMRC encourages applicants to collaborate with, and participate in, international research. Research based in other GACD member countries should be submitted to the relevant agency. NHMRC encourages applications that address Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander health.
Eligible institutions	Proposals must be submitted through an NHMRC approved Administering Institution to the GACD Common Submission Portal.  See call text on the NHMRC website for complete information.
Co-investigator requirements	The Chief Investigator A (CIA) must be based in Australia. Where the work will be mainly carried out in low and middle income countries, it would be expected at least one Chief Investigator (other than CIA) on the application will be from the country where the work will take place.
Project location requirements	See call text on the NHMRC website for complete information.
Eligible costs and further information on funding conditions	See call text on the NHMRC website for complete information.
Anticipated amount of funding available for this call (approx.)	NHMRC has allocated a total of $5 million for this call. Duration of successful grants will be for five years or less.
Notes	Applicants to submit a full application through the GACD Common Submission Portal.
